

Assume that, for each device, user opens the applications in order shown from top down (all within 24 hours)

* No additional authentications are required If multiple Office 365 applications are opened on the same device after the first authentication for the Office 365 application

 No additional authentications are required If multiple web applications are opened in tabs within the same browser session after the first authentication for the web browser.